

ANNOUNCING THE 2019 VALVE WORLD AMERICAS CONFERENCE AND EXHIBITION!

Houston, TX—The fifth biennial Valve World Americas Expo & Conference organized by KCI Publishing Corporation and Messe Düsseldorf North America will be held on June 19th and 20th at the George R. Brown Convention Center in Houston, Texas.

As the premier valve event in America, the two-day expo and conference will bring together the leading minds driving ahead innovation and excellence in the fields of valve manufacture, use, maintenance and more. Valve World Americas is a dynamic event with a strong focus on personal interaction. The high quality conference has an emphasis on practical, applicable knowledge sharing with the subject matter experts and key opinion leaders of the valve community. Attendees will get a broad overview of the latest technologies, components and systems in the field of industrial flow control through the technologically in-depth conference program, product showcases on the expo floor and incredible networking opportunities. The preliminary conference program can be found here:

In conjunction with the conference, the exhibition will bring together the valve manufacturers, distributors, engineering firms and end users at the forefront of the industry to help strengthen relationships, meet existing and new customers, and exchange ideas and opinions face-to-face. There will be a high level of expertise and learning opportunities presented in an informal, friendly and social atmosphere, aimed at exchanging useful information.

The Valve World Expo & Conference knows no borders and welcomes participants from around the globe. International speakers and attendees relish this unique knowledge sharing event, uniting valve users keen to share their knowledge and build their network. Since its premiere in 2011, Valve World Americas Expo & Conference in Houston has grown substantially in terms of exhibit space, exhibiting companies and participating visitors. In 2017, over 320 companies exhibited as part of the event with a total of 4,141 visitor for the entire event, including nearly 450 conference attendees.

Valve World Americas would like to thank our main event sponsors: Bonney Forge, Bray, Cameron, Crane, Emerson, MRC Global, Chase Valves and Velan, as well as the conference supporters: The Valve Manufacturer's Association (VMA), the Fluid Sealing Association (FSA) and the Society of Piping Engineers (SPED), for making this event possible.
